

FALL 2021 NEWSLETTER

Note From Heidi

At 1st Credentialing, our goal has always been to be the “gold standard” for all credentialing services. There are many reasons why having a gold standard mindset is important, but the most important reason is to build trust with our clients. Right from the beginning we listen to the client’s needs. Working with a remote company should not be a coin toss on whether or not you will be treated as a valued client.

We put our Core Values in place many years ago and we still live by them today. Every employee is introduced to our values, and as a company, we are always aware of the need to treat our clients and each other with respect and transparency.

Our Core Values are:

Customer Commitment- Fostering long-term relationships with customers is essential. We actively listen to their problems and apply our expertise to address their current and future needs.

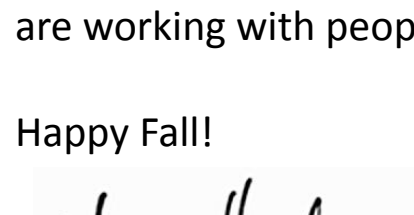

Integrity- We are honest, trustworthy, and respectful of each other and our customers. We are accountable for our actions, successes, and failures.

Teamwork- We have a commitment to common goals based on open communication while showing respect and support for each other. We are one company, one team.

Quality- We are experts in our field providing accurate and complete work for our customers and our teammates.

This year we are one of three finalists for the Better Business Bureau 2021 Torch Award for Ethics. We are very proud of this distinction, and win or lose, we are proud of what we do every day for our clients. Working with 1st Credentialing means you are working with people who care about you.

Happy Fall!
